PROPERTY AUCTION SERVICE

Why we offer auctions

In a market where buyers are not required to make any commitment to a property purchase and the fall-through rate & average conveyancing time is ever increasing, we are proud to offer an alternative method of sale designed to increase the security of the transaction and drastically reduce the time taken to get our sellers through to completion.

In partnership with Whoobid Property Auctions, we have taken the out-of-date process of traditional auctions and modernised it by bringing it online, where the vast majority of all buyers start their property search, whilst retaining the priceless marketing expertise and local knowledge of our agency.

Gone are the days of old-fashioned, inefficient auction room sales which are often inflexible, out-of-area and poorly advertised. We offer two different methods of auction, Traditional and Modern.

“The whole process was so simple, from offer accepted to getting keys took less than 4 weeks.”

Mr O - Buyer

Traditional Method of Auction

This is the method of auction you will think of when you hear the word ‘auction’ with exchange happening on the fall of the hammer and completion following within 28 days.

We have taken the outdated method of sale and modernised it by bringing the process online allowing people to bid from the comfort of their own homes, taking away the anxiety and pressure that often comes with auction room sales. By taking the process online we are opening the market up to a wider range of buyers who may have otherwise not been able to make it to an auction room.

At the end of the auction the winning bidder will be bound by our terms and the Reservation Fee will be paid.

Modern Method of Auction

This works in exactly the same way as the traditional auction whereby the auction takes place online, however the property does not exchange on the fall of the hammer. Instead, the winning bidder agrees to enter into an exclusivity agreement which grants the winner 28 days in which to exchange.

This opens the auction market up to properties that may not have been suitable for traditional auction as motivated mortgage buyers will have time to raise finance on the property. This means that you are not narrowing your market to predominantly 'cash buyers' as with traditional auctions.

At the end of the auction the winning bidder will be bound by our terms and the Reservation Fee will be paid.

“An excellent service,
well managed and very quick & easy to use.”

Mr H - Seller

How does it work?

01 Valuation

Following our initial conversation, our auction team will reach out to you to discuss the process in full detail before recommending reserve and guide prices.

02 Preparation

We will then create a tailored marketing strategy for your property, preparing property details, taking photos to produce brochures and marketing material ready for launch. You may also require an EPC which we can arrange if necessary.

03 Auction Pack

We instruct solicitors to produce your Auction Legal Pack.

The solicitors will liaise with you directly with any questions.

04 Marketing

Alongside the production of the auction pack, we will set an auction date and begin marketing through all of our usual online portals. Your property will also be sent out to our internal database and Whoobid's extensive nationwide client database.

05 Viewings

Viewings will be carried out at your property with prospective bidders, often in group viewings depending on interest levels. Interested parties can download the legal documents online for free prior to auction.

06 Pre-Auction

Upon buyers viewing the property and carrying out their due diligence, they will have the opportunity to make an offer under the same secure terms prior to the auction event. All of these offers will be presented to you for your consideration.

07 Auction Day

The auction will run for 3 hours starting on the day and time set, interested parties will then be able to place bids on the property. Bids placed in the final minute will extend the auction by 3 minutes, to ensure the best price is achieved. Assuming your reserve is met the successful bidder will be bound by the terms of the auction.

08 Post-Auction

Traditional Auction

You will exchange instantly and completion will follow within 28 days. or

Modern Method

You grant the successful bidder an exclusivity period in which they have 28 days to exchange.

Bournemouth, Dorset

Guide Price: £130,000
